

Edge Debate 85

Procuring for Whole Life Value: how do we effect real change?

16th October 2018

The debate will focus on Ann Bentley's report for the Construction Leadership Council "Procuring for Value" published in July 2018.

Chair

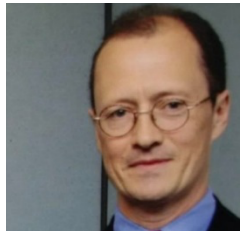

Dr Matthew Tulley is responsible for the redevelopment of Great Ormond Street Hospital for Children NHS Foundation Trust. Previously, he held the positions of new hospitals programme director for the £1bn new hospital scheme at the Barts and New London NHS Trust, from 2000 to 2001, and project director for Partnerships UK from 2002 to 2007

Speakers

Ann Bentley is a global director of the 3,600-strong Rider Levett Bucknall. She is a member of the UK Government's Construction Leadership Council, heading the Business Models and Supply Chains workstream and sits on the MHCLG's Independent Expert Advisory Panel on building safety. She is a civil engineer (MICE), RICS Fellow, visiting Professor at Birmingham City University and visiting lecturer at Reading.

Kevin Murray is Deputy Director, Head of Property and Construction at Crown Commercial Service/ Government Property Agency. Previously he had been Head of Contract Management and Commercial – Property at Ministry of Justice, Development Policy Manager of Southern Housing group and Head of Procurement at L&Q, having been a Director of WT partnership for 14 years.

Louise Lado-Byrnes has spent 19 years in management consultancy and since 2011 been a director of IPInitiatives Ltd focussing on training and project facilitation for the Integrated Project Insurance Model of no-blame collaborative construction. She has a degree in Construction Management with extensive experience of facilitating change management in the supply chain and collaborative working.

Alan Crane CBE is a Construction Industry Advisor and consultant with his own 3 C's Construction Consultancy that draws on his wide range of experience as a client (Canary Wharf), a contractor (Bovis then Christiani and Nielson), a President (CIOB) and 18 years as an advisor to Bennetts Associates. Alan chaired the Movement for Innovation (M4I).

The Edge is grateful for the sponsorship of the evening by the Building Centre Trust and for your participation in this debate:

Sarah Allan	Solid Space
Miles Attenborough	AECOM
Ashley Bateson	Hoare Lea
Irena Bauman	Bauman Lyons
James Burland	Burland TM
Lucy Carmichael	RIBA
Lynne Ceeney	Lytton Consulting
Robert Cohen	Verco Global
Paddy Conaghan	Hoare Lea and The Edge
Hayley Cormick	KLH Sustainability
Russell Curtis	RCKA
Joanna Eley	Alexi marmot Associates
Helen Evans
Max Foidham	Max Fordham and The Edge
Simon Foxell	The Architects Practice and The Edge
Rob Garvey	University of Westminster
Julie Godefroy	Julie Godefroy Sustainability, CIBSE and The Edge
Ben Goodwin	ICE
Philip Graham	Cullinan Studio
Prof Stuart Green	University of Reading
Hans Haenlein	Hans Haenlein Architects
Gregor Harvey	Designing Buildings Wiki
Sophie Hooper	BIFM
Peter Inlgis	Cullinan Studio
Philip Isgar
Sue James	Futurebuild Conference, TDAG and The Edge
Jennifer Juritz	David Morley Architects
David Lindsey	Max Fordham and The Edge
Ben Kidd	Imperial College
Richard Lorch	BRI
Liz Male	Liz Male Consulting
Chloe McCulloch	Building Magazine
Diana McHugh	KLH Sustainability
Charlotte Morphet	Waltham Forest Council
Jay Morton	Bell Phillipps Architects
Michael Moseley	KTN-UK
Robin Nicholson	Cullinan Studio and The Edge
Seema Patel	RIBA
Athena Papakosta	Carbon Specialist
Erlend Rendall	Atorus Consult
Prof Flora Samuel	University of Reading and the Edge
Richard Saxon	Consultancy for the built environment
Dale Sinclair	AECOM
Gary Strong	RICS
Simon Sturgis	Targetting Zero
Lynne Sullivan	LSA Studio, GHA and the Edge
Sagar Sumaria	SO Ethical Media
Peter Tse	BSRIA
Jane Thornback	Construction Products Association
Colin Tweedy	The Building Centre
Andy Von Bradsky	MHCLG
Michelle Wang	Hoare Lea and The Edge
Jane Wernick	Engineers HRW and The Edge
Rae Whitow-Williams	The London School of Architecture
Anna Winstanley	Consultant
Andrew Wright	Constructive Collaboration
Sui-Te Wu	Lean BIM Strategies Ltd